

KAPLAN KIRSCH ROCKWELL

Denver City Tax Support to the Tune of $90 million Could Aid Gates Redevelopment at I-25 & Broadway

The Denver Post

10.02.17

A Denver Post article reported that the Denver City Council unanimously approved a redevelopment plan for Firm client Broadway Station Partners, including a $90 million tax increment package with the Denver Urban Renewal Authority (DURA). This site is the old Gates Rubber site in Denver at I-25 & Broadway. Next to Stapleton Airport, this is the largest tax increment financing that the city of Denver has approved.