12.19.18

We are delighted to announce that Bob Randall, Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, will be joining us as a partner at Kaplan Kirsch & Rockwell at the end of the Hickenlooper administration in mid-January. Bob's long career in environmental law, natural resources, and public lands will enhance the Firm's established practice advancing the interests of communities, businesses, and the public interest in Colorado and throughout the West.

Governor Hickenlooper announced Bob's resignation through a press release on Wednesday, December 19, commenting that, "From water to oil and gas, outdoor recreation to parks and wildlife, Bob was a steady voice through complicated matters. Colorado's leadership in these areas is a reflection of Bob's commitment, and we should all be most grateful."
