

KAPLAN KIRSCH ROCKWELL

Article By Firm Attorney Explores Federal Control Over Airports

Fall 2012

The Fall 2012 issue of TransLaw contains an article by Firm attorney Christian Alexander entitled, “Federal Regulation of Airports: Rethinking the Appropriate Federal Role”. The article explores the history of federal influence over airports, particularly through the imposition of the Grant Assurances, and examines several specific areas of inconsistent and arguably inappropriate requirements.